BODEGA LAND TRUST

*Freestone Vineyards Guest Center, Freestone, California
Saturday, June 6th, 2009 6:30 pm*

Indulge in a sumptuous five-course meal, created by Brandon Guenther and paired with fine wines from local artisan producers Freestone Vineyards and Freeman Vineyards & Winery.

Dine with winemakers Theresa Heredia and Ken Freeman, who will discuss their wine, the west County terroir, and their efforts to ensure its protection.

Enjoy a rare opportunity to view and purchase paintings by local resident and internationally famous landscape artist Jack Stuppin.

Offered with our appreciation to "Prairie Protectors" (those donating $250 or more per person).
Art for sale may be previewed at <http://www.bodeganet.com/landtrust/>

Please call 707-876-3093 for reservations.

Freestone Vineyards Guest Center

<http://www.freestonevineyards.com>

Freestone Vineyards has newly opened an attractive guest center at the corner of Bohemian Highway and Highway 12 in the historic Pastoral Building. The Guest Center provides a warm and welcoming venue. The principles of biodynamic farming are applied at Freestone Vineyards and form the basis of self-sustainable winegrowing.

"The wines are all about purity of expression and terroir, but more than that, they hark to a style of winemaking that prizes balance and elegance over sheer power. Only a handful of California producers ... play in this league."

Freeman Vineyard & Winery

<http://www.freemanwinery.com/>

Since being founded in 2001 by Ken and Akiko Freeman, Freeman Vineyard & Winery has developed a cult-like following within the wine community, emerging as one of California's most-acclaimed boutique wineries. Located in the Russian River Valley's picturesque Sebastopol with vineyards in the high hills above Occidental, the winery is recognized for crafting elegant cool-climate Pinot Noir and Chardonnay in a sophisticated Burgundian style. Freeman has been hailed by Food & Wine as one of the "World's 30 Best Pinot Noirs" and by Wine Spectator as one of its "Magnificent 30" California Pinot producers.

Chef Brandon Guenther
